

Ancestral Lineage Healing Sessions

Agreements and Understandings Form

- Practitioners of ancestral lineage healing agree to a code of ethics that can be referenced at: ancestralmedicine.org/code-of-ethics.
- Ancestral lineage healing is not a substitute for medical or mental health care. Practitioners do not diagnose or treat physical/medical or psychological conditions.
- Ancestral healing practitioners are not trained to represent any specific religious or spiritual traditions, and the ancestral lineage healing method does not presume to reflect practices of ancestor reverence and ritual from any singular cultural background.
- This practitioner is in training and may share session information with Ancestral Medicine supervisors with the intent to receive support and training. When doing so, practitioners honor confidentiality by changing identifying client information.
- Although practitioners-in-training receive supervision and support from Ancestral Medicine supervisors, they are solely responsible for their work with clients.

By signing, I confirm that I have had the opportunity to review and I agree with the information above. I release Ancestral Medicine from any liability regarding ancestral healing sessions.
